The Sri Lanka Consulate in Karachi marked Sri Lanka's 78th National Independence Day with a vibrant ceremony celebrating national pride and the strong Sri Lanka-Pakistan friendship. Consul General H.E. Sanjeeva Pattiwala hoisted the national flag and, in his address, highlighted Sri Lanka's resilience and economic recovery, noting that "within eighteen months, through collective struggle and determination, Sri Lanka has achieved tangible economic progress," even overcoming challenges such as Cyclone Ditwah. He expressed deep gratitude to Pakistan for its longstanding support, including humanitarian assistance, security cooperation, and educational opportunities under the Allama Iqbal Scholarship Scheme. The event also underscored growing bilateral trade under the Pakistan-Sri Lanka Free Trade Agreement, strong educational ties, and cultural diversity through multi-faith prayers, while a blood donation drive for Pakistani thalassemia patients reflected shared humanitarian values, reaffirming the enduring bond between the two nations.

The Consulate General of Thailand also set up an attractive stall at the ongoing My Karachi Expo at Karachi Expo Centre, showcasing a range of Thai products that were warmly appreciated by Pakistani consumers. Referring to Pakistan–Thailand trade relations, Mr. Suraseth Boontinand, Consul General of Thailand in Karachi, highlighted the strong potential for expanding bilateral trade and strengthening commercial cooperation between the two countries. Toward the end of the visit, the President of the Karachi Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Mr. Rehan Hanif, paid a special visit to the Thai pavilion, where the Consul General presented him with a gift of Thai products, in the presence of Mr. Arif Suleman and other distinguished guests.

The Karachi Chamber of Commerce and Industry organized the My Karachi: Oasis of Harmony exhibition at the Karachi Expo Centre, which was inaugurated by Sindh Chief Minister Syed Murad Ali Shah. The opening ceremony was attended by H.E. Rabbat Ali, Al-Baqirithi, Consul General of the United Arab Emirates, E.A. Abdul Samad Al-Khatib, Consul
